

Where Narcissists are Most Likely to Cause Problems in the UK Divorce Process

The UK currently operates a 'no fault' divorce policy to minimise conflict during this difficult time. However, narcissists use EVERY opportunity to disrupt and delay this process because they 'fight to win at all costs AND at maximum pain and loss for their victim.'

A narcissist has the greatest opportunity to cause problems at the positions marked with an 'N' and arrows, although they will try to cause chaos at every opportunity.

The only place their power is taken away is at a Final Hearing in court.